

Loughborough University, Institute of Advanced Studies

The Future of Migration Studies: A Conversation
Wednesday the 22nd of May 10am to 4pm, WAV 0.41

One-day event questions what future migration studies will look like in Europe. It puts professors, early-career established academics and PhD students into conversation around questions of 'what is migration?' and 'what directions should the study of migration go in?'

10.00- 11.30 Panel 1: Theorising Migration

Invited speakers:

Dr David Bartram, University of Leicester, UK.

Dr Joris Schapendonk, Radboud University, Netherlands.

Chair: Dr Sophie Cranston, Loughborough University, UK.

12.00-13.30 Panel 2: Interdisciplinary Approaches to Migration

Invited speakers:

Professor Anna Amelina, Brandenburg University of Technology, Germany.

Dr Alistair Hunter, University of Glasgow, UK.

Chair: Dr Aija Lulle, Loughborough University, UK.

14.30-16.00 Panel 3: The Future of Migration Studies

Speakers: Chidinma Okorie; Leila Wilmers; Cuomu Zhaxi; Ito Jimenez; Annie Evans and Cintia Silva-Huxter

Chair: Dr Peny Sotiropoulou, Loughborough University, UK.

Interactive format in this panel, interactive, based on the 'fishbowl technique'. We all will come out richer and empowered.

Lunch and coffee included. Register for free by 21st Eventbrite.
Places are limited. Register early please.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/future-of-migration-studies-in-conversation-tickets-61230029667>