

Training Strategies for World Heritage Management

The essays collected in this publication present the broad range of contributions developed in the course of the project "Development of Multi-Disciplinary Management Strategies for Conservation and Use of Heritage Sites in Asia and Europe" (MUMA) which was carried out by European and Asian Universities. In conclusion, the publication offers readers a rich source of models for constructing heritage education tools on a variety of institutional levels and provides them with innovative management concepts in terms of sustainability.

Available online

<http://www.tu-cottbus.de/interkulturalitaet>

Series of published volumes

Volume 1: Nature and Culture – Ambivalent
Dimensions of our Heritage

Volume 2: Constructing World Heritage

Volume 3: Training Strategies for World Heritage Management

Volume 4: World Heritage and Cultural Diversity

This book was financially supported by

European Union Asia-Link Programme

2007, 235 pages, English, ISBN 3-927907-93-6

Print: DRUCKZONE GmbH & Co KG, Cottbus

Training Strategies for World Heritage Management

Volume 3

Editors

Marie-Theres Albert

Roland Bernecker

Diego Gutierrez Perez

Nalini Thakur

Zhang Nairen

with a prologue by William Dalrymple

Brandenburgische
Technische Universität
Cottbus

b-tu

Prefaces

- F. Bandarin, R. Bernecker, N. Costello, the Editors

Policies

- M.-T. Albert: The MUMA—Project — An Integrated Approach to Heritage Management
- R. Bernecker: The German Commission for UNESCO in the Field of Heritage Education and Training
- M. Rössler: From Training to Capacity Building: The Evolution of a Concept in the Framework of the World Heritage Convention
- B. Bühler, T. H. Karpati: World Heritage Cities — Challenges and Chances
- H.-W. Rissom: World Heritage Education and Education for Sustainable Development
- N. Stanley-Price: Continuing Professional Development for Heritage Managers
- C. Manhart: UNESCO's Strategies for the Safeguarding of Cultural Heritage in Post Conflict Situations

Approaches – World Heritage Education at Universities

- W. Logan: Heritage Education at Universities
- M. Droste: The Role of Art History for World Heritage Studies
- J. Sträter-Bender: Teaching World Heritage — Learning Paths and Museum Coffers
- A. D. Mazel: New Heritage Management Masters Programme at the International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies at Newcastle University, Great Britain

Approaches – Teaching and Learning Concepts

- L. Tao: Cultural Heritage Awareness in China's School Education
- Z. Yan: Teaching Traditional Chinese Painting — A Strategy for Understanding Chinese Culture
- A. H. Al Husban/Z. Al-Saad/M. Schmidt/D. Afanasyeva: Cultural Heritage Education at Primary and Secondary Schools in Jordan: Analysis and Recommendations
- R. Deleplanque: Val de Loire — World Heritage and Educational Action
- J. Sikora: Offsite Education of World Heritage Sites for Teachers and Students — Study of Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site

Approaches – Non-Formal Education

- R. N. Biancalana: Heritage Education in Serra da Capivara National Park — Brazil
- K. Zehbe: You Can't Teach Old Underdogs New Tricks — Socioeconomic Segregation as a Challenge for Heritage Education in Germany
- T. Makino/T. Tanaka: Ningyo Johruri Bunraku Puppet Theatre for Everyone
- O. Clemens: World Heritage Education on Study Tours

Implementation – Instruments and Tools

- N. Thakur: The Conceptual Model for Indian Heritage Site Protection and Management
- F. Li: Master Conservation Plan as a Contribution to Heritage Management in China — A Case Study of the Old Town of Lijiang
- P. Sachsenmeier: Monitoring and Evaluation
- P. Rajukalidos: Categorization as a Tool for Evaluation — World Heritage Cultural Sites in India, Existing Setup and International Goals
- D. Gutierrez Perez/A. Muñoz Orbañanos: Virtual Representation of Natural World Heritage Sites
- A. Muñoz Orbañanos/D. Gutierrez Perez: Efficient International Project Networking Using Widely Spread Internet Technologies: A Real Experience
- P. Jha: Use of Computer Technology in Presenting Indian Art and Culture
- H. Overmann: Master Planning as a Management Tool at Heritage Sites
- M. Richon: Borrowing someone else's Toolbox could be the Solution

Implementation – Case Studies

- R. Mittal: Sacred Memory — Memory of Temples in Delhi
- Z. Fan: Reconsideration on Protection and Utilization of the Traditional Courtyards in Beijing
- N. Thakur: Management of the HAMPI Project, India
- G. Horn: Heritage Management and Local Participation — The Balance between Theoretical Claims and Practical Frustrations
- S. Behrendt: World Heritage Management in the Hanseatic City of Stralsund — Strategies for Capacity Building and Education