

Polen, Krakau, Krakau TU, Architektur, WS 2016

Krakow is for me one of the most interesting and beautiful places on earth, and why is that I will describe in this brief account of my stay in the city.

At the University of Cottbus I spent two years I was practically on completion of their studies, but I knew that I could go abroad under the Erasmus program. Why Krakow? I am Polish, and I think that after a long stay abroad just as I missed my country. But the most important thing for me was that it was possible to implement this program at the Technical University of Cracow, which as a young man before choosing studies always dreamed about. So I can say that this was in part the fulfillment of my little dreams.

The whole procedure of planning and application went quite well. At home university, which is the BTU Cottbus received very good support and always, in every situation I could count on Lady who is responsible for this university program for students Erasmu. Always on time, I was probably like every Erasmus everything very well informed. The university also organized a place of my stay in Krakow, which was very helpful to me.

Krakow marveled at anytime, so it was immediately after arrival, the only situation in which I feared was just living in a dorm. The same organization coming here and check also passed without a problem and everyone in the administration was helpful. However, until now, I have always lived alone in the room and I was used to the quality of life and my privacy. Here in the place it turned out that I live with someone. Of course I returned to my country, and I was hoping that I would be among "his people."

Today, those words have a different meaning for me as before coming here. It turned out that I came into the room with other female students Erasmus. It seems that I should not be surprised by this because I myself was Erasmus. After not a long time, I found that, yes, I found myself among "my people", wonderful people, and they were all students of the Erasmus program from different corners of the world. Girls from Slovenia, who lived in the room next door also studied architecture, and later it turned out many activities and projects we did together, so every day I was more pleased with the arrival.

The first moments of the university as I received very positively. Office for students and herself Mrs. coordinator of my department were extremely open and helpful in every situation. Several meetings were organized for Erasmus students, which led us into force in Krakow.

To be implemented at the university I chose lots of interesting activities, which of course developed my knowledge and skills. Staff professors is very professional, but also very open and helpful for all students. The university gives you the opportunity to participate in various programs, whether it comes to classes directional, sports, cultural or other.

The Erasmus program was also part of another program that simultaneously realize, which is a dual diploma. I must admit that a lot of time devoted to learning because after that I came here to acquire knowledge, develop their skills and qualifications, but also to meet other people and cultures. My luck was that I was just a student of Erasmus and throughout virtually stay I stayed with these students also. Of course we visited Krakow and its surroundings, which are very interesting and worth seeing. We spent unforgettable moments at various dinners, cultural events, as well as others. After this time, many of us still maintains contact with each other and trying to organize their time so that they also visit other universities and cities known people here.

I still love Krakow and I'm still here and of course I recommend a visit to anyone in this city, but also the students participate in the Erasmus program at the Technical University in Krakow because it is worth.
