

Prof. Dr. p.h. habil. Gesine Grande

Prof. Dr. Gesine Grande, born in 1964, studied psychology at the University of Leipzig, earned her Ph.D. in Public Health in Bielefeld in 1997, and completed her habilitation at the Medical Faculty of the University of Leipzig in 2012.

She served as a professor at the Leipzig University of Applied Sciences (HTWK) and at the University of Bremen. Before being elected president of the Brandenburg University of Technology (BTU) Cottbus-Senftenberg in 2020, she served one term as rector of the HTWK in Leipzig.

Prof. Grande is actively involved in a wide range of initiatives, including the GATE-Germany Steering Committee, the Supervisory Board of the Leibniz Institute for Innovative Microelectronics (IHP) and the Leipzig Trade Fair, and the boards of trustees of various scientific institutions such as the Federal Institute for Materials Research and Testing (BAM) and the Fraunhofer IPMS. She is the chair of the Lausitz Science Network (LSN) and a member of the board of trustees of the Fürst-Pückler-Museum Park and Branitz Castle Foundation and the Max Grünebaum Foundation, which she also chairs.