

You already have a BTU account:

If your account is new, make sure it is activated. The letter with your account information also includes information on how to activate your account.

If you have a working BTU account, use it to log into the learning portal Moodle Projekte:

<https://www.b-tu.de/elearning/projekte/>

To log in, you have to use your BTU account name and password, not your email address. Your account name is 8 characters long and typically consists of the first 5 letters of your family name and the first 3 letters of your given name - for example:

Thomas Miller → milletho (but there are also exceptions)

You are already in the application process but you don't have a BTU account yet:

If you are in the application process to enroll at the BTU it can happen that you need to use the learning portal Moodle Projekte still before you receive a working BTU account.

eg. for language courses or for welcome information courses

If you don't have a BTU account yet, please make sure you have accessed the myBTUportal, accepted the study offer and created an online enrolment request:

<https://www.b-tu.de/myBTU/>

To create a temporary account for the learning portal Moodle Projekte (as long as you don't have a BTU account) go to the registration page moodle-register and follow the instructions. There you need your email address, you've used in the application process. If you entered multiple email addresses at myBTU, use the main contact email address:

<https://moodle-register.mmz.b-tu.de/>
