

The Brandenburg University of Technology Cottbus – Senftenberg (BTU) is a research-oriented university that combines its role as the central university of Lusatia with a strong international perspective. It offers a combination of basic and application-oriented research with the focal areas of environment, energy, materials, construction, health and information and communication technology.

At the Faculty of Social Work, Health and Music, the following position is to be filled as soon as possible with an application-oriented approach. The teaching obligation amounts to 15 course hours.

W2-PROFESSORSHIP Nursing Science and Nursing Didactics

The professorship is located at the Institute of Health in Senftenberg. We are looking for an experienced candidate who represents the fields of Nursing Science and Nursing Didactics at their interface in teaching and research. Experience is required in primary-qualifying nursing bachelor's degree courses as well as in teacher training degree courses in the field of nursing, and vocational training in the nursing profession. The teaching duties are to be carried out in the bachelor's degree course in Nursing Science, in the master's degree course in Vocational Education for Health Professions and, if applicable, in other planned master's degree courses at the Institute of Health. The professorship is also associated with the management of the bachelor's degree course Nursing Science and involvement in the further establishment of academically trained nursing staff in the state of Brandenburg. The willingness to network with the research priorities of the faculty, to participate in academic self-administration and in the profiling of the faculty are prerequisites.

The incumbent is expected to innovatively and cooperatively contribute to the development of the health focus at the BTU and to the further development of the BA and MA health degree courses. In particular, through research activities and the promotion of young academics, the incumbent is to contribute to the academic profiling and further development of both subject areas. In addition, cooperation schemes with care and educational institutions are to be further developed and cultivated.

The following certificates are expected:

- a completed diploma or master's degree in vocational education for health care professions, nursing science, nursing education or a completed comparable degree programme;
- a relevant doctorate in the field of nursing science or nursing didactics;
- teaching and research activities in nursing science and nursing didactics;
- completed vocational training in the nursing profession.

We will be happy to provide you with further information. Please contact the vice dean, Prof. Dr. Jacob Spallek, Tel.: 0 35 73 / 85 701 / E-mail: jacob.spallek@b-tu.de.

Further tasks result from § 42 of the Brandenburg Higher Education Act (Brandenburgisches Hochschulgesetz, BbgHG) in conjunction with § 3 BbgHG. For this professorship, the requirements and conditions of employment according to §§ 41 para. 1 nos. 1 to 3 and 4b as well as 43 BbgHG apply.

Courses are also to be held in English. Experience in the procurement of third-party funding and in the implementation of third-party funded projects is expected. Your research topics should be relevant to the German Research Foundation or comparable international research funding institutions.

The BTU strives to increase the proportion of women in research and teaching and therefore invites the corresponding applications. As a family-oriented university, the BTU offers support options for dual career couples (Dual Career Service). Severely disabled applicants will be given preferential consideration if they are equally suited. Please also observe the data protection information on the BTU website.

Please send your application with proof of your qualifications, a tabular presentation of your professional career, a list of publications as well as proof of pedagogical suitability by e-mail in a summarised pdf file with a maximum size of 7 MB by 13.10.2021 to:
